

Cameo Collectibles

Introducing the new Kewpie® 2002 Catalogue

Cameo Collectibles

It is appreciation of all that is Kewpie[®], which has born the creation of Cameo Collectibles. The genius of Rose O'Neill's creation still lives on today in the hearts of collectors worldwide. To try to explain the mystique of Kewpie[®], in short, would be fruitless.

Cameo's co-founders, Wilf and Paula Shorrocks have 25 years experience in the business of toy and doll marketing. Together they have built an impressive array of internationally located companies in the fields of entertainment, licensing and consumer products. Fifteen years ago, the Shorrocks interest in antiques introduced them to Kewpie[®] for the first time. From that moment they embarked on a private quest to find an opportunity to build an association with the Kewpie[®] brand.

The name Cameo was chosen in tribute of our special affinity to original Kewpie[®] sculptor Joseph Kallus who used the name Cameo in the early 1900's under the name "Cameo Fine Arts."

It is the heritage and the core values of Kewpie[®] that we intend to proudly uphold within Cameo. We pledge to maintain the highest standards of quality and service.

Cameo is proud therefore, to introduce our 2002 Kewpie[®] collection

We feel that this current array of dolls underlines our commitment to maintaining the Kewpie[®] heritage, while at the same time creating new dolls that will take their place along side our classic friends of the past.

It is our intention for Cameo to, once again, become synonymous with the name Kewpie[®]

Show you care with a special Kewpie.[®]
